PART II

RISK FACTORS

The Company believes that the following factors may affect its ability to fulfil its obligations under the Loan Notes. All of these factors are contingencies which may or may not occur and the Company is not in a position to express a view on the likelihood of any such contingency occurring. In addition, factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with the Loan Notes are described below.

The Company believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in the Loan Notes, but the inability of the Company to pay interest, principal or other amounts on or in connection with the Loan Notes may occur for other reasons which may not be considered significant risks by the Company based on information currently available to it or which it may not currently be able to anticipate. Prospective investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this information memorandum and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision.

1. Factors that may affect the Company's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Loan Notes

a. The Company's objectives may not be fulfilled

The value of an investment in the Company is dependent upon the Company achieving its investment objectives. There can be no guarantee that the Company will achieve the level of success that Board expects in respect of its own investments and there is no guarantee or assurance or certainty that the investment objectives of the Company will be met.

b. The Company's investments

As at the date of this document, the Company has an investment portfolio comprising equity interests in, and debt owed by, unquoted private companies which may be difficult to value and/or realise.

The future success of the Company is dependent upon the performance of its investment portfolio and the identification and acquisition of suitable investment opportunities. There can be no guarantees that such investments can or will be acquired or that its current or future investments will be successful.

c. The Company's investments in distressed businesses could subject the Company to an increased risk of loss

In addition to targeting growth and buyout opportunities, the Company has invested and may invest in distressed and insolvent companies which have experienced significant operating issues and may have associated financial distress, including companies involved in insolvency proceedings. Although such purchases may result in significant returns, they involve a substantial degree of risk and may not show any return for a considerable period of time.

Distressed companies generally have less predictable operating results and may have highly indebted capital structures that make them more vulnerable to adverse financial or business developments than less highly indebted companies and accordingly they may be at a heightened risk of breaching financial covenants under any financing arrangements to which they are party.

Distressed companies may also be exposed to substantial litigation with less resources to contest claims than more stable companies.

Such risks could lead to the partial or total loss of the Company's investment in an investee company and there can be no assurance that any such losses will be offset by gains realised on the Company's other investments.

d. The Company's investments in small and medium sized companies may result in dependence on a small group of persons

The size of the companies in which the Company invests means that they may be dependent on the management talents and efforts of a small group of persons. The death, disability, incapacity or resignation of one or more of those persons could have a material adverse impact on their business and prospects and the investment made.

e. Due diligence processes may not reveal all material facts or circumstances

Before the Company makes any investment, the Investment Adviser may undertake an information gathering exercise. The objective of this exercise is to enable the Investment Adviser to identify attractive investment opportunities based on the facts and circumstances surrounding an investment. When making an assessment regarding an investment, the Investment Adviser will rely on resources available to it, the target of the investment or, in the case of co-investments, the party with whom the Company is co-investing. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that any research and information gathering exercise carried out with respect to any investment opportunity will reveal or highlight all relevant facts that may be necessary or helpful to the Investment Adviser in evaluating such investment opportunity. This could lead to an acquisition being materially overvalued, which could have a significant adverse effect on the performance of the Company and its ability to pay the principal, interest or other amounts on or in connection with the Loan Notes.

Additionally, the due diligence undertaken in respect of these investments may be insufficient to reveal all of the past and future liabilities relating to the operations of such investee companies. Such liabilities could include liabilities arising from litigation, breach of environmental regulations, government fines, contractual liabilities and pensions deficits, amongst others. Furthermore, in some unusual circumstances the limited liability status of investee companies and/or their subsidiaries might not be upheld, and the Company could lose some or all of its investment in such companies, which could have a material adverse effect on the performance of the Company. The Company will, however, typically seek to avoid exposure to such liabilities.

f. Illiquidity of underlying investments

The majority of investments made by the Company are expected to comprise unquoted interests in companies which are not publicly traded or freely marketable and for which a sale may occasionally require the consent of other interested parties. Such investments may therefore be difficult to value and/or realise, and their management and realisation may involve significant time and cost. The illiquidity of these investments may make it difficult to sell investments if the need arises or if the Investment Adviser determines such sale would be in the Company's best interests. In addition, if the Company were to be required to liquidate all or a portion of an investment quickly, the Company may realise significantly less than the value at which the investment was previously recorded.

g. The Company's investments may, directly or indirectly, be in companies that are highly indebted

The Company may invest in companies whose capital structures have a significant degree of debt. In addition, companies that are not or do not become highly leveraged at the time an investment is made may increase their leverage after the time of investment. Investments in highly indebted companies are inherently more sensitive to declines in revenues, increases in expenses and interest rates and adverse economic, market and industry developments. In addition, the incurrence of a significant amount of indebtedness by a company may, among other things:

- (i) limit the company's ability to respond to changing market conditions to the extent additional cash is needed for the response, to make necessary capital expenditures or to take advantage of growth opportunities;
- (ii) limit such company's ability to adjust to changing market conditions, thereby placing it at a competitive disadvantage compared to its competitors who have relatively less debt;
- (iii) limit the company's ability to engage in strategic acquisitions that may be desirable to generate attractive returns or further growth; and
- (iv) limit the company's ability to refinance its debt and/or obtain additional financing on attractive terms or at all.

Additionally, if any investee company breaches any covenants under its financing arrangements and the relevant lender declares the entire amount of such company's indebtedness due and payable or forecloses on any assets pledged as collateral, the Company may lose some or all of its investment in such company, which could have a material adverse effect on the performance of the Company.

h. Concentration of investments

The Company and/or the Investment Funds may at certain times hold a relatively concentrated investment portfolio. The Company could be subject to significant losses if it, for example, holds a large position in a particular investment that declines in value. Such losses could have a material adverse effect on the performance of and returns achieved by the Company.

i. Appropriate valuation of investments by the Investment Adviser

It is expected that most of the investments that the Company makes will be in the form of investments for which market quotations are not available. Decisions by the Investment Adviser as to whether to make particular investments and when to exit such investments will be based to a significant extent on an analysis and assessment of both the present value and the expected future value of the relevant investment. Estimates of the future value of investments are inherently uncertain and may not reflect the value the Company is eventually able to realise on such investments due to various factors, including a deterioration in an investee company's trading position or reputation in the market, poor implementation of an investee company's corporate and management strategies, subsequent illiquidity in the market for an investee company's securities or a deterioration in the overall economic climate. The Company's performance could be adversely affected if the value estimates made by the Investment Adviser at the time of investment are materially higher than the values that are ultimately realised on the disposal of such investments.

j. Ongoing effects of uncertain economic climate

It remains difficult to forecast what impact the uncertain economic climate will have on the performance of the Company's portfolio companies.

k. The Company has very limited ability to redeem or transfer its investment in the Investment Funds

A significant portion of the Company's funds are invested in the Investment Funds. Pursuant to the terms of the Limited Partnership Agreement, without the consent of the Fund General Partners the Company may not transfer or redeem its interest in, or otherwise withdraw from, the Fund. Additionally, pursuant to the terms of the limited liability partnership agreement relating to ESO Investments (PC) between (amongst others) the Company and the Investment Adviser, without the consent of the other members of ESO Investments (PC), the Company may not sell, assign, transfer, exchange, pledge, encumber, grant options over or otherwise dispose of its legal or beneficial interest in ESO Investment (PC). If a material adverse event occurs in relation to the Company or the market generally, the ability of the Company to avoid or mitigate further adverse exposure is limited by its limited ability to redeem its interest in, or otherwise withdraw from, the Investment Funds. This could have a materially adverse effect on the ability of the Company to pay the principal, the interest or other amounts payable in respect of or in connection with the Loan Notes.

l. Failure by service providers to the Company and the Investment Funds to perform their obligations could materially disrupt or damage the business of the Company with adverse effects on its business or performance

The Company and the Investment Funds have no employees and rely upon the performance of third-party service providers to perform their executive functions. In particular, the Company and ESO Investments (PC) are reliant on advice provided by the Investment Adviser and the Fund is reliant on the Fund General Partners and the Investment Adviser. In particular, the Company's performance is likely to be dependent on the effectiveness of the Fund General Partners' management of the Fund's investments, on the effectiveness of the Investment Adviser in the provision of the investment management services to the Fund General Partners and advisory services to the Company and ESO Investments (PC). Failure by any service provider to carry out its obligations to the Investment Funds in accordance with the terms of its appointment without exercising due care and skill, or to perform its obligations to the Investment Funds at all as a result of insolvency or other causes could have a material adverse effect on the Investment Funds' performance and returns to the Company. The termination of any relationship between any of the Investment Funds and any third-party service provider, or any delay in appointing a replacement for such service provider, could materially disrupt the business of the relevant Investment Fund and could have a material adverse effect on such Investment Fund's performance.

m. The Company's performance may be adversely affected should certain individuals cease to provide their services to the Investment Funds and/or the Company

The success of the Investment Funds and, in turn, the Company depend on the diligence, skill and business contacts of the Fund General Partners, in particular, of Giles Brand and other key individuals from the Investment Advisor.

n. Difficulty and cost of terminating the Fund General Partners' appointment

The Company and Fund may only terminate the appointment of the Fund General Partners under the Limited Partnership Agreement in very limited circumstances. Such termination may be difficult to obtain in practice. In certain circumstances, if the Fund is unable to terminate the appointment of the Fund General Partners, the market price of the Loan Notes could suffer. If the Fund General Partners' appointment is terminated, it may be difficult (or impossible) to appoint a replacement general partner and, in such circumstances, the Fund may be dissolved.

o. Historical returns may not be indicative of future performance

No guarantee is made in relation to the performance of the Company, the Investment Funds or the Loan Notes. There can be no assurances that an investment in the Company and/or by any of the Investment Funds will have a return on invested capital that is similar to the historical returns of accounts or funds managed or advised by any directors of the Company or by the Investment Adviser. Past performance may not be an accurate predictor of future performance or returns, nor is there any guarantee that future market conditions will allow for similar performance. An investment in the Company is subject to all of the risks and uncertainties associated with an investment business of the Company's type, including the risk that the Company will not achieve its investment objectives.

p. Changes in law or regulations

For regulatory, tax and other purposes, the Company and the Loan Notes may be treated differently in different jurisdictions. In certain jurisdictions, the status of the Company and/or the Loan Notes may be uncertain or subject to change, or it may differ depending on the availability of certain information or disclosures by the Company. Changes in the status or treatment of the Company or the Loan Notes may have unforeseen effects on the ability of investors to hold the Loan Notes or the consequences of so doing.

The regulatory environment for funds that are similar to the Company and for the managers of similar funds is evolving. The Company is subject to laws and regulations enacted by national and local governments. Additional laws may apply to the portfolio companies in which the Company makes investments. Compliance with, and monitoring of, applicable laws and regulations may be difficult, time consuming and costly. Any change in the laws and regulations affecting the Company or any change in the regulations affecting similar funds or private equity fund managers generally, or any failure by the Company to comply with such laws or regulations, may have a material adverse effect on the Company's ability to carry on its activity of investing, which in turn could have a material adverse effect on the Company's performance and its ability to pay the principal, interest or other amounts on or in connection with the Loan Notes.

q. Risks relating to taxation

Adverse changes in the tax position of the Company

The structure under which the Company holds its investments is based on current tax law and the practice of the tax authorities of the UK (where the Company's assets are expected to be predominantly located) and the Isle of Man (where the Company is incorporated). Such law (including applicable rates of taxation) or tax authority practice is subject to change, possibly with retrospective effect. Any change in the Company's tax position or status or in tax legislation or proposed legislation, or in the interpretation of tax legislation or proposed legislation by tax authorities or courts, or tax rates could adversely affect the value of investments held by the Company or affect the Company's ability to achieve its investment objective.

The Company is currently liable to Isle of Man taxation at a standard rate of tax of zero per cent. save in certain limited circumstances that are not expected to arise.

If the Company were to be considered to be resident for taxation purposes in any jurisdiction other than Isle of Man or otherwise subject to taxation in another jurisdiction, its total income or capital gains or those attributable to or effectively connected with such other jurisdiction may be subject to tax in that other jurisdiction and this could have a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations, financial condition or business prospects.

Non-UK tax residence or non-trading status of the Company could be challenged or transactions could be taxed under certain UK anti-avoidance rules

The Company must conduct its operations in a manner that ensures that it is not treated as being tax resident or as having a taxable presence outside Isle of Man. Given the location of the assets is expected to be predominantly in the UK, the most likely alternative jurisdiction in which the Company may be tax resident is the UK. It is intended that the affairs of the Company will continue to be conducted so that the central management and control of the Company is not exercised in the UK and, consequently, so that the Company is not UK tax resident. However, it cannot be guaranteed that HMRC will not challenge the position. In order to maintain its non-UK tax residence status, the Company is required to be centrally managed and controlled outside the UK. The composition of the Board, the manner in which the Board conducts its business and the location(s) in which the Board makes decisions will be important in determining and maintaining the non-UK tax residence of the Company. While the Company is incorporated and administered in Isle of Man and a majority of its directors are resident outside the UK, continued attention must be paid to ensure that major decisions by the Company are not made in the UK, to avoid the risk that the Company may lose its non-UK tax residence status.

There is a risk that management errors could potentially lead to the Company being considered UK tax resident. If so, this is likely to result in the Company paying more UK tax than is anticipated, which would negatively affect its financial and operating results. In addition, even where a company maintains its non-UK tax residence status, it will potentially be subject to UK corporation tax if it is carrying on a trade in the UK, in which case the relevant company will be subject to UK income or corporation tax on the income profits and capital gains attributable to its UK trade. It is intended that the Company will not undertake any UK trading activities. It cannot be guaranteed that HMRC will not seek to contend that the Company has acquired one or more of its assets as trading stock and, consequently, is carrying on a trade in the UK. If any such contention were correct, this is likely to result in the Company paying more UK tax than is anticipated, which would negatively affect its financial results and ability to pay the principal, interest or other amounts owed in respect of or in connection with the Loan Notes.

2. Factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the risks associated with the Loan Notes

a. The Loan Notes may not be a suitable investment for all investors

Each potential investor in the Loan Notes must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

- (i) have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the Loan Notes, the merits and risks of investing in the Loan Notes and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this information memorandum or any applicable supplement;
- (ii) have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the Loan Notes and the impact the Loan Notes will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- (iii) have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Loan Notes, including where the currency for principal and interest payments is different from the potential investor's currency;
- (iv) understand thoroughly the terms of the Loan Notes and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant financial markets; and
- (v) be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

Accordingly, the Loan Notes may not be a suitable investment for all recipients of this document. Before making a decision, investors are advised to consult an appropriate independent investment adviser authorised through FSMA who specialises in advising on investments of this nature.

The Loan Notes are complex financial instruments. Sophisticated institutional investors generally do not purchase complex financial instruments as stand-alone investments. They purchase complex financial instruments as a way to reduce risk or enhance yield with an understood, measured, appropriate addition of risk to their overall portfolios. A potential investor should not invest in the Loan Notes unless it has the expertise (either alone or with a financial adviser) to evaluate how the Loan Notes will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of the Loan Notes and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio.

b. Modification, waivers and substitution

The Loan Notes contain provisions for calling meetings of Noteholders to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Noteholders including Noteholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority.

c. Change of law

The conditions of the Loan Notes are based on English law in effect as at the date of this information memorandum. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change to English law or administrative practice after the date of this information memorandum.

3. Risks related to the market generally

Set out below is a brief description of the principal market risks:

a. The ISDX Growth Market

Although the Company intends to apply for the Loan Notes to be admitted to trading on the ISDX Growth Market, there is no guarantee that the application will be successful. The fact that application will be made for the Loan Notes to be admitted to trading on the ISDX Growth Market should not be taken as implying that there will be a "liquid" market in the Loan Notes if the application is successful. The ISDX Growth Market is not the AIM market operated by London Stock Exchange plc or the Official List of the UK Listing Authority. An investment in the Loan Notes may therefore be difficult to realise. Continued admission to the ISDX Growth Market is entirely at the discretion of ISDX. Any changes to the regulatory environment, in particular the ISDX Growth Market - Rules for Issuers could, for example, affect the ability of the Company to maintain a trading facility for the Loan Notes on the ISDX Growth Market.

b. The secondary market generally

The Loan Notes may have no established trading market when issued, and one may never develop. If a market does develop, it may not be very liquid. Therefore, investors may not be able to sell their Loan Notes easily or at prices that will provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed secondary market. The Loan Notes are designed for specific investment objectives or strategies. As such, the Loan Notes generally will have a more limited secondary market and more price volatility than conventional debt securities. Illiquidity may have a severely adverse effect on the market value of the Loan Notes.

c. Exchange rate risks and exchange controls

The Company will pay principal and interest on the Loan Notes in Pounds Sterling. This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if an investor's financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the "Investor's Currency") other than Pounds Sterling. These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of Pounds Sterling or revaluation of the Investor's Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Investor's Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Investor's Currency relative to Pound Sterling would decrease (i) the Investor's Currency-equivalent yield on the Loan Notes, (ii) the Investor's Currency-equivalent value of the principal payable on the Loan Notes and (iii) the Investor's Currency-equivalent market value of the Loan Notes. Government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate. As a result, investors may receive less interest or principal than expected, or no interest or principal.

d. Interest rate risks

Investment in the Loan Notes involves the risk that subsequent changes in market interest rates may adversely affect the value of them.

e. Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) the Loan Notes are legal investments for it, (ii) the Loan Notes can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of the Loan Notes. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of the Loan Notes under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

f. Financial Services Compensation Scheme

The Loan Notes will not have the status of bank deposits under English law and are not within the scope of the Financial Services Compensation Scheme operated by the FCA.

PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS SHOULD THEREFORE CONSIDER CAREFULLY WHETHER INVESTMENT IN THE LOAN NOTES IS SUITABLE FOR THEM, IN LIGHT OF THE RISK FACTORS OUTLINED ABOVE, THEIR PERSONAL CIRCUMSTANCES AND THE FINANCIAL RESOURCES AVAILABLE TO THEM.

PART III

DETAILS OF THE LOAN NOTES

The issue of the Loan Notes was authorised by a resolution of the Board of Directors of the Company passed on 20 July 2015. The Loan Notes are constituted by the Loan Note Instrument and these terms and conditions include summaries of, and are subject to, the detailed provisions of the Loan Note Instrument. A copy of the Loan Note Instrument is available for inspection during usual business hours at the registered office of the Company. The Noteholders are entitled to the benefit of, are bound by, and are deemed to have notice of, all the provisions of the Loan Note Instrument.

1. Form, Denomination and Title

(a) Form and denomination

The Loan Notes have been issued in registered form and in the denomination of £1.00 each. If and for so long as the Loan Notes are admitted to trading on the ISDX Growth Market and admitted to CREST (or other applicable Central Securities Depository), the Loan Notes will be held in de-materialised form or, at the request of the relevant Noteholder, a certificate will be issued.

(b) Title

A register of the Loan Notes will be kept by the Registrar wherein there will be entered the names and addresses of the Noteholders and particulars of the Loan Notes held by them respectively and a copy of such register will at all reasonable times during business hours be available for inspection by the Noteholders. If and for as long as the Loan Notes are admitted to trading on the ISDX Growth Market and are admitted to CREST, a register shall also be maintained by Euroclear in respect of Noteholders who hold their Loan Notes in paperless form. Title to Loan Notes shall pass by registration in the register maintained by the Registrar or, in the case of Loan Notes in paperless form, the register maintained by Euroclear and a person in whose name a Loan Note shall be registered shall (to the fullest extent permitted by law) be treated at all times and for all purposes as the absolute owner of such Loan Note regardless of any notice of ownership or trust.

2. Status

The Loan Notes will constitute direct and unsecured obligations of the Company.

The payment obligations of the Company under the Loan Notes will, save for such exceptions as may be provided by mandatory provisions of applicable law, rank pari passu, equally and rateably, without discrimination or preference, alongside all unsecured creditors of the Company.

3. Issue Size

The issue will be limited to 10,000,000 Loan Notes of nominal value of £1.00 each.

4. Further issues

The Company may from time to time without the consent of Noteholders create and issue further loan notes having the same terms and conditions as the Loan Notes and ranking pari passu with the Loan Notes in all respects, so that the same will be consolidated with the existing Loan Notes constituted by the Loan Note Instrument.

5. Issue Price

The issue price of the Loan Notes will be 100 per cent. of the total principal amount of the Loan Notes.

6. Interest Rate

Until all of the Loan Notes have been redeemed, interest on the principal amount of each outstanding Loan Note in issue (and on any accrued and outstanding interest that is compounded) will accrue on a daily basis from the date of issue of such Loan Note to the date of redemption of such Loan Note (both days inclusive). The Loan Notes bear interest at the rate of 7.50 per cent. per annum (the “Interest Rate”), payable semi-annually in arrears in equal instalments on 31 January and 31 July (each an “Interest Payment Date”), provided that the first Interest Payment Date will be 31 January 2016, and such interest will be pro rated in respect of any period that is less than six months. Any interest which falls for calculation will be calculated on the basis of a 365 day year and actual days elapsed.

If any interest amount becomes payable under the Loan Note Instrument but is not paid, such interest amount will accrue interest at a rate of 2 per cent. above the Interest Rate (compounding on a semi-annual basis on each Interest Payment Date) between the date upon which such amount became payable and the date of actual payment (both days inclusive).

7. Meeting of Noteholders

The Loan Notes contain provisions for convening meetings of Noteholders to consider matters affecting their interests, including the sanctioning by a resolution passed by the Majority of Noteholders of a modification, compromise waiver or release in respect of any obligation of the Company arising under or in connection with the Financial Covenants and the Concentration Covenant and Negative Pledge provisions summarised below or by Extraordinary Resolution of a modification of any other provision of the Loan Note Instrument.

Such a meeting may be convened by the Company or by Noteholders holding in aggregate more than 50 per cent. in principal amount of the Loan Notes in issue and outstanding.

Any such meeting shall be held in all respects as nearly as possible in the same way as is provided by the Company’s articles of association with regards to general meetings, provided that:

- (a) no member of the Company not being a director will be entitled to notice of the meeting or to attend unless he/she is a Noteholder;
- (b) the quorum at any such meeting shall be Noteholders holding or representing by proxy at least 20 per cent. of the principal amount of the Loan Notes for the time being outstanding; and
- (c) if a poll is demanded each Noteholder shall have one vote for each £1.00 in nominal amount of Loan Notes held.

The Loan Note Instrument provides that a resolution whether in one or more documents signed by or on behalf of the Majority of Noteholders will be as valid and effectual as if it had been passed at a meeting of the Noteholders duly convened and held and a resolution whether in one or more documents signed by or on behalf of seventy five per cent. of the principal amount of the outstanding Loan Notes will, for all purposes, be as valid and effectual as an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting duly convened and held.

8. Final Redemption

The Loan Notes will be redeemed in full on 23 July 2022, provided that the Company may extend the Final Redemption Date to 23 July 2023 by giving written notice of such extension to Noteholders on or prior to 31 January 2022, subject to the Company being in compliance with the terms of the Loan Note Instrument on 23 July 2022.

9. Early Voluntary Redemption

The Company may elect, on any one or more occasions, to redeem on a pro rata basis:

- (a) on or after 31 July 2018, at par up to 50 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of Loan Notes issued under the Loan Note Instrument (together with unpaid accrued interest thereon up to (and including) the relevant date fixed for redemption); and
- (b) on or after 31 July 2020, at par up to 75 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of Loan Notes issued under the Loan Note Instrument (together with unpaid accrued interest thereon up to (and including) the relevant date fixed for redemption).

The Company is required to give Noteholders not less than 30 days’ written notice prior to the redemption of the Loan Notes.

10. Mandatory Redemption

If any of the following events occurs then the Company will, within 90 Business Days of written demand by any Noteholder, repay all of the Loan Notes (together with accrued but unpaid interest thereon) held by such Noteholder:

- (a) the winding up of the Company, other than a solvent winding up for the purposes of amalgamation or reconstruction under which a successor entity undertakes the obligations of the Company under the Loan Note Instrument or a member's voluntary winding up on terms approved by an Extraordinary Resolution;
- (b) the Company stops or threatens to stop payment of its debts;
- (c) the Company ceases its business or threatens to cease its business;
- (d) an administrator of the Company is appointed, or documents filed with the Court for the appointment of an administrator, or notice is given of an intention to appoint an administrator by the Company or the directors;
- (e) a receiver, administrative receiver or similar official is appointed in respect of the whole or a substantial part of the undertaking and assets of the Company;
- (f) any distress or execution is levied or enforced against all or a substantial part of the assets or property of the Company and is not fully discharged within 90 days;
- (g) any process or event with an effect analogous to any of those referred to in (a) to (f) happens;
- (h) a breach of the Financial Covenants occurs, but only if the breach is not remedied within 90 Business Days of the Financial Covenant Test Date to which the breach relates; or
- (i) the Company commits a material breach of the Loan Note Instrument, but only if the breach is not remedied within 90 Business Days of written notice by the Majority of Noteholders requiring such remedy.

11. Financial Covenants

The Company must satisfy the following financial covenants on each Financial Covenant Test Date:

- (a) the Interest Coverage Ratio of the Company must be equal to or greater than 6:1. For the purposes of calculating the Interest Coverage Ratio, any amounts in a currency other than GBP will be converted at the rate of exchange at which the Company would be able, in good faith and using commercially reasonable efforts, to purchase the relevant amount of GBP; and
- (b) for so long as at least 50 per cent. of the principal amount of the Loan Notes issued on or around 23 July 2015 remains outstanding, the Gross Assets Ratio must be equal to or greater than 2:1.

For the purposes of calculating the Interest Coverage Ratio and the Gross Asset Ratio, any principal in respect of, and any interest on, any debt securities purchased (or otherwise held) by the Company will be excluded in its entirety.

12. Concentration Covenant

Without the prior approval of a Majority of Noteholders, the Company will not, after 23 July 2015, make any investment in any single portfolio company (whether in one transaction or a series of transactions), together with any related guarantees or other types of credit support, comprising more than 25 per cent. of the Gross Asset Value of the Company (calculated as of the Financial Covenant Test Date immediately preceding the date on which the Company makes its initial investment in such portfolio company) ("GAV"), except that the Company may invest up to an additional 10 per cent. of GAV in such portfolio company in the form of bridge financing which is repayable within a period of 12 months from the date of such investment.

13. Negative Pledge

The Company is not permitted to grant any security over any of its assets, save for:

- (a) any security granted by the Company in relation to any overdraft facility of the Company or any limited partnership or other entity in which the Company holds a majority of the economic interests (except any portfolio company);
- (b) any security granted to DES Holdings IV(A) LLC (and/or any of its affiliates) in connection with the Company's purchase of any interests of DES Holdings IV (A) LLC in the Fund;
- (c) any netting or set-off arrangement entered into by the Company in the ordinary course of its banking arrangements for the purpose of netting debit and credit balances;
- (d) any lien arising by operation of law and in the ordinary course of trading, including (without limitation) statutory liens;
- (e) any security over or affecting any asset acquired by the Company after the date of this Agreement if the security was not created in contemplation of the acquisition of that asset by the Company and the principal amount secured has not been increased in contemplation of or since the acquisition of that asset by the Company;
- (f) any security arising under any retention of title, hire purchase or conditional sale arrangement or arrangements having similar effect in respect of goods supplied to the Company and on the supplier's standard or usual terms and not arising as a result of any default or omission by the Company; and
- (g) any Security securing indebtedness the principal amount of which (when aggregated with the principal amount of any other indebtedness which has the benefit of security given by Company other than any permitted under sub-clauses (c) to (f) above) does not exceed £5,000,000 (or its equivalent in another currency or currencies).

14. Withholding Taxes

All payments to be made by the Company under or in respect of the Loan Notes will be made free and clear of and without deduction or withholding for or on account of tax, save as required by law. If at any time the Company is required by law to make any deduction or withholding for or on account of tax from any payment to a Noteholder it is obliged to promptly notify each of the Noteholders of the amount which it is required to deduct or withhold and to pay such amount in full to the relevant authority within the time allowed for such payment under applicable law.

15. Governing Law

The Loan Notes (and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with them) are governed by English law.

If the Company shall place the said moneys into a separate bank account as aforesaid, the Company shall not be responsible for the safe custody of such moneys or for interest thereon (which shall be for the credit of the Noteholder), and if unclaimed, such moneys shall revert to the Company as set out in clause 14.5.
